An old old Frenchman, long since dead, wrote about "Choses Vues," "Things seen."

"There are still many things to see and to hear, although things are slowly in the process of disappearing. As that old Frenchman wrote: At the head of the Louisiana Times 'Personal Column' summer race to print this impressive extract from the 'Choses Vues'.

"Seek the Lord, and His strength seek His face evermore. Remember His marvelous works, and the judgments of His mouth."

You spend a moment wondering what kind of English man or woman, strong in faith, decided to put this last before the world that today seek the "faces" of Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin, but forget graves power of the Creator of these gentlemen.

After that, you read in the same Times this advertisement:

"Fore humbly obtained that can be worn with a clear conscience—full particulars from Major C. Van Der Byl, Wapenamunga, New Guinea."

This being ingenious and beautiful more support appears in the ten-inch-thick English woman who does not like to think that the fur around her neck once belonged to an animal that suffered for days and perhaps weeks, tortured in a trap.

"Possibly the best way to 'kill two birds with one stone' is to buy and wear some of the immemorial furs from rugged bears to which civilization, made from the skins of little bushes in the suburbs of Los Angeles, and fed with 'radio' but 'hays' tender young alfalfa, grows on the Mojave Desert, a good deal of it as a result of and operated by this writer."

When you buy furs, do look for what kind with a clear conscience foundation, you may be sure that the animal suffered very little, if at all, and when you buy that for you also may have some American alfalfa, which is a vegetable product.

F. C. Cobb writes from the Boy Scout Reservation at Alhambra, N. J.: "The last four week-ends have been spent by our scouts collecting tent caterpillar egg clusters from wild cherry and apple trees along the highways of Massachusetts and Connecticut. Many thousands of egg clusters, each containing on the average 250 eggs, have been destroyed."

No better work could be done by scouts and other boys. It is far better exercise than pre-fabricated 'bikes' often exhausting for smaller boys.

"The PATHFINDER of the boys, also in need of exercise, can be useful moving weeds along highways, 'squaring' the corners for the lungs, and for reducing the waist."

Edward S. Harkness, generous young New York financier, gave to Lawrenceville School for Boys a sum that will make possible important new building, plus rebuilding, and a more extensive system of individual instruction, with more teachers. The boy, the late Dr. Mather Abbott, admirable educator and head master of Lawrenceville, did not live to hear this good news.

Mr. Harkness, who does not like publicity, refused to make public the amount of his gift to Lawrenceville, but he gave SEVEN MILLION dollars to Foster Academy, THIRTIEN MILLION dollars each to Yale and Harvard, to finance their housing systems, that give some idea of the size of his gifts.

Some Americans will agree that it is a good thing to have been of unusual wealth and accumulate wealth and use it for generous and wise.

Old-fashioned Americans would rather encourage such gifts and praise the giver than indicate the notion that anybody with brains enough to accumulate wealth in this country of opportunity is probably a thief and ought to be in jail.

Musolini knows how a dictator can keep his hold on the people. He establishes 2000 government camps, where half a million poor children enjoy free vacations at sea and in the mountains. For nine years Musolini has carried on this work.

Great Americans beside cities with millions of children that have never seen the sea, have been in salt water, might be interested.

"BIG ACTORS" FACE CALL IN SUIT

Los Angeles, Aug. 4 (INS)—"Literally every outstanding masculine film star of recent years has been written about by Mary Astor in her diary and we expect to call a large number of them to the stand."

"That was the blunt announcement today of Joseph Anderson, lawyer, bald-headed attorney for Dr. Franklin Thorpe, as he reluctantly reports the weak's recent in the spectacular civil custody case indicated a settlement was in prospect."

"I know nothing of a settlement," said Anderson, and his words were echoed, with more emphasis, by Roland Kirk Woolley of counsel for the suborned film star, who is fighting to regain custody of her daughter, four-year-old Marilyn Thorpe. The child was given to Dr.

GEORGE KAUFMAN

Thorpe when he obtained an uncontested divorce April 12, 1935. But it was previously reported today a group of film producers planned to make a final effort during the trial.

MANSFIELD OWENS LEADS U. S. SWEEP FOR GOVERNOR

Another bombshell was exploded in the Massachusetts political arena today when Mayor Mansfield was formally entered in the race for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

The mayor has not returned from his vacation, but in his absence nomination papers bearing hundreds of signatures were filed for him at Boston City Hall.

The papers were filed by John C. Chaney, 112 Bowdoin street, Dorchester, at the office of the election commissioners.

For a long time it was believed Mayor Mansfield would run for United States senator, only if Senator Marcus A. Coolidge decided not to oppose Gov. James M. Curley for the rectorship.

But Coolidge's son-in-law, Mayor Robert E. Greenwood of Fitchburg, entered the race for that post a short time ago and filed signatures today.

State Treasurer Charles F. Hurley has the endorsement of the Democratic primary convention for the governorship, while Gov. Curley has the endorsement for the rectorship.

Political pundits point out this afternoon, however, that Mayor Mansfield's unexpected step may be an indication of a switch by Curley to the gubernatorial race.

As things stand, however, Governor Curley, Mayor Mansfield and Lieutenant-Governor Joseph L. Hurley are all dallying with the idea of running for senator or governor, without having definitely made up their minds. Papers for Mansfield for senator are still in circulation.

BULLETIN

Berlin, Aug. 4 (INS)—For each U. S. Olympic victory today there was an avianist. Next salute from the crowd and the blaring of the Star Spangled Banner. For Helen Stephens there was a reception by Chancellor Hitler. This revived charges Owens and the other Negroes are being discriminated against on racial grounds. Some sources say the Mrs. American club will be re-estimated later by the President at his conference, however.

Berlin, Aug. 4 (AP)—Jesse Owens, Ohio State negro all-around star, won the Olympic broad jump title today, following up his earlier triumph in the 100-meter sprint.

Owens won his second title of 8.06 meters, 26 feet, 5 21-64 inches, shattering the previous record of 25 feet 4 3/8 inches made by Edward Hamm in the 1928 games.

John Hagner Woodruff, University of Pennsylvania Negro freshman, won the Olympic 500-meter run championship today.

Glen Harkin of the U. S. won the 400-meter hurdles race in 3:24 seconds.

Helen Stephens of Fulton, Mo., won the 100-meter championship, giving the United States its first victory in women's track competition.

BIRDMAN PLANE SETS WORLD RECORD HERE

Lighton Webb, 17, of Rochester, N. Y., sent a home-made glider plane into the air at Franklin Field today, and it stayed up for six minutes and two seconds to break the world's record and make Webb a National Junior Birdman champion.

Webb accomplished his stupendous feat while participating in the 1936 National Outdoor Junior title contest at Franklin Field under the auspices of the Boston Evening American and Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Webb defeated William Paxton, Atlanta, Ga., for the outdoor glider championship cup. Paxton's tiny craft remained in the air for five minutes fifteen seconds and one-half seconds.

Frank Barrett, Jr., of Brighton, Mass., won the glider contest.

STATE LABOR SPLIT LOOMS OVER LEWIS

New Bedford, Aug. 4—A bitter debate looms in the Massachusetts Federation of Labor unions here as a result of a resolution, offered today, to champion by John L. Lewis in his dispute with President William Green of the A. F. of L.

Action on the resolution will not come until later in the week and in the meantime leaders hope forestall all attempts by delegates favoring Lewis to start a demonstration of any kind.

Today's resolution says motion picture production has wiped out craft lines, causing employment of unskilled and unskilled workmen. "Some large scale industries will remain unorganized or build unions outside the A. F. of L. unless the latter adapts its methods to meet their needs," the resolution continues.

REDS SHOOT DOWN TWO PLANES

With the report from Gibraltar in the London Daily Telegraph that the German battleship Deutschland had prevented a bombardment of Spanish rebel forces at Ceuta, Morocco, the dangerous international situation created by foreign partisanship in the civil war was intensified today.

While France expected an affirmative reply from Britain to her request for a three-power neutrality declaration, Italy's answer, according to Reuters, would insist on German participation.

H. R. Knickerbocker announced from Burgos that the southern rebel army has acquired 18 commercial airplanes, to spend 10,000 Foreign Legionnaires in Spain for a drive against Madrid, and speculation followed in Italy as the plane's source.

Tangier, Aug. 4 (INS)—Spanish rebels and Loyalist fought a sharp air battle over the Straits of Gibraltar today, the government forces apparently winning after forcing down two rebel

The air engagement over the straits added tension to an already grave international situation which has grown up about the Spanish revolt as fought in the Western Mediterranean.

Government land planes and insurgent seaplanes fought the battle. Two seaplanes were forced down.

ing the week to stop the trial in an out-of-court settlement.

Their decision was reached, it was reported, after improper suggestion with George S. Kaufman, the playwright, was admitted by Miss Astor. The producers agreed the case as "too hot" even for Hollywood because a half-million dollars would be paid to the actress in a settlement of the case.

"Uncle, Give Us Bread?"
SOVIET 'ROYALTY'
O.K. SAUCEPAN

Arne Strom is a Danish poultry expert, who had lived in Canada and the United States. He was ordered by the Soviet government to help improve its state farms.

Accompanied by his wife and child, Mr. Strom went to Soviet Russia imbued with a deep sympathy for the Communist experiment.

He spent a year on the barren track on a state collective farm and traveling widely throughout the country.

Everywhere he went in Russia he heard the cry from a starving and miserable people, "Uncle, give us bread!" He returned to Denmark utterly disillusioned.

With the pitiable cry of the tortured millions, "Uncle, Give Us Bread," as the title, Mr. Strom has published the record of his experiences.

The book was translated from Danish and issued in English in the spring of 1935.

LEWIS CHARGED REVIEWING
A. F. L. ON AIR

Washington Aug. 4 (AP)—An assertion that John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, refused the American Federation of Labor's executive council in a radio address was made before the council today by E. D. Riehl, assistant president of the electrical workers.

Riehl was the first witness called against Lewis and 11 associates in the Committee for Industrial Organization at their trial before the council on charges of "disrespectful" toward the A. F. of L. Lewis and the other defendants were absent, contending that the council was an authority to try a group.

FORMED OWN UNION
In his testimony Riehl recalled that the council last January voted to admit the electrical workers into the Industrial Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, a craft union.

Previously these radio workers had belonged to federal unions, following the union of the industrial union of electrical workers in the industrial union of electrical workers.

Riehl testified that radio workers in several plants had refused to join the industrial union, but had set up a national union of their own, an industrial union. They applied for an A. F. of L. charter.

LEWIS AND THE COUNCIL
Lewis and the council, Riehl testified, then gave him financial aid to join the industrial union, which was then admitted to the A. F. of L. as a national union.

As the trial progressed, efforts to admit the electrical workers to the A. F. of L. were made by the industrial union of electrical workers in the industrial union of electrical workers.

A photograph of a building facade. A sign on the left side of the building reads "BOBYES PORIA". To the right of the sign, there is a dark, rectangular opening, possibly a doorway or a window. The building appears to be made of light-colored material, possibly concrete or stone. The overall image is somewhat blurry and has a high-contrast, almost black-and-white appearance.

A 10x10 grid of squares, each containing a number from 1 to 10. The numbers are arranged in a pattern that suggests a multiplication table, but the numbers are small and the grid is faint.

Katharine Hepburn and Fred Astaire are the stars of "Mary of Scotland," the film version of a biography of the Scottish queen. Hepburn, once changed history and shook the world, is now a queen. This film will open at Keith's Memorial Theater Friday, February 11, at 8 o'clock, at 30¢ Thursday night.

Miss Hepburn, to cast as the Scottish queen, is a woman who has been over the East of Horthall, both love worthy of the queen and a queen of former, when talents men them Academy awards in "Morning Glory" and "The Philadelphia Story" respectively.

The story follows the plan of the life of the queen, which was written by Maxwell Anderson. It treats of the latter years of the queen's life, which made a dramatic and thrilling story. The queen, Elizabeth of England, the treachery of her own nobles and the death of Scotland, religiously treated, John Ross.

Berlin, Aug. 4 (1938)—Douglas Fairbanks, American film star, and his wife, the former Lady Ashley, will depart for the United States tomorrow aboard the Zeppelin Hindenburg, they revealed today.

At the same time, it was announced the German Air Ministry has ordered the Hindenburg to postpone its departure for the United States from August 13 to the night of August 16 to receive pictures and films of the close of the Olympic games, which will be shown to the dirigible from Berlin by special plane.

and the children will enjoy the new picture coming to the RKO-Boston Theatre Thursday.

It is a story of a boy who was rejected by his neighborhood and remains in "And So Their Story Begins" as the boy grows to manhood. The story is told by Mary Astor and Edith Fellows, a mother and daughter combination that is enjoyed by the men. The "film-farers" are Melvyn Douglas and his wonderful wife, Jeanne Crain, who play a rich man and his daughter. The story goes to the children will have a "white Christmas" Astor and

"Grand Jury" is an indictment against the seven cities that refuse to use the weapons at all committed to quick crime. From the point of view of the audience, the citizens who throw themselves into a campaign against the use of the weapons who do not see a killing.
